

You Say

By Matt Case

ACTS 17: 24-25 NASB

The God who made the world and all things in it, since He is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands; nor is He served by human hands, as though He needed anything, since He Himself gives to all people life and breath and all things;

Verse 1

To the void You speak and there is formed
From dark to light You create the morn'
From dust to man You brought forth life
Oh God the world declares Your might

Chorus 1

Yet You say that Your love is set on me
And You say that Your heart desires my peace

Verse 2

The storms and winds obey Your voice
Yet still Your thoughts for me rejoice
How could the God of all know I exist?
Yet still I know that I am His

Chorus 2

Yet You say that Your love is set on me
And You say that Your heart desires my peace
From the way You saved me from the grave
This I say that in You I live and breathe

Bridge

For You know and see
All things in me
You're the God by whom
All life is breathed
You're the Lord of all
Yet You know my every need
And when the sparrow falls
You hear and grieve
For Your heart is good
And above all things
Your love remains
For those who call on Your name

Chorus 2

Yet You say that Your love is set on me
And You say that Your heart desires my peace
From the way You saved me from the grave
This I say that in You I live and breathe
You say!
This I say!